Parental Rights For Public School Special Education Students

This brochure provides an overview of parental special education rights, sometimes called procedural safeguards. This notice must be provided in your own language or any other mode of communication you may be using. These same procedural safeguards are also available for students with disabilities who have reached the age of 18. This Notice of Procedural Safeguards must be given to you at least one time per year, and it must also be given to you:

1. The first time your child is referred for a special education evaluation;
2. If you or the district requests a due process hearing; or
3. Upon your request.

Special Education Advisory Council

SEAC meetings are an opportunity for families of children in Special Education to engage with other parents, staff and interested community members. SEAC members provide input on special education issues to the Director of Special Education and the Executive Director of Woodbury Leadership Academy. Attending meetings are a way to become more knowledgeable about Special Education, develop relationships with Special Education staff and network with other families. Parents are encouraged to attend any time as a guest or to become a SEAC member.
